Socreds Draw 1,100

Bennett, Bands, Ballyhoo Liven Up Election Scene

'It's Social Credit Against the Field'

By PETER BRUTON

A rube band, placard-carrying paraders, Victoria Girls' Drill Team, hecklers, colorful speakers and a mostly enthusiastic audience of about 1,100 all went into the recipe which provided one of the liveliest election meetings of the campaign staged by Social Credit in the Royal Theatre last night.

Chief drawing card was Premier W. A. C. Bennett who was speaking on behalf of Victoria Socreg candidate Waldo Skillings and Esquimalt-Saanich candidate Noel Bell.

The meeting started off with a bang.

A five-piece band, complete with piccolo and bass drum, started the meeting off by parading through the theatre followed by party placard bearers and the Victoria Girls' Drill Team.

'YOU'VE GOT TO CHEER'

"I believe you've got to make election campaigns more interesting in our nation," declared Premier Bennett. "You've got to have a few bands and cheering."

The audience cheered.

The premier said the reason why Progressive Conservative leader John Diefenbaker had drawn such large audiences in B.C. was because the people could see what a Conservative looked like. After the election, he added, people would have to travel to eastern Canada to see what a Conservative MP looked like.

He lashed out at all other parties and said he was just "amazed" at statements that Canada could not afford a program like that proposed by Social Credit.

NEW YORK LOANS

Other parties had said that before Social Credit was first elected in 1952, now the only cry was "Where's the money coming from?" continued the premier.

"New York," yelled a heckler. "What about the New York loans?"

"I'll come to that, my friend," said Premier Bennett. "If ever a government borrowed from New York it was the Liberals and Conservatives in coalition."

B.C. would be debt free within two more years. In seven years of Socred rule the net debt will have been reduced from $191,000,000 to nothing.

"Then we will be able to give greater benefits to the people of B.C.," he declared. "That's the reason why the Liberals want to defeat Social Credit in this election. If Social Credit was no threat to other parties why do they all attack Social Credit?"

NO DIFFERENCE

There was no difference between Liberal or Conservative, the premier added.

"Someone criticized us for going to New York for money," he added. "It's the only place you can get it unless you pay exorbitant rates of interest which must then be passed on to the people."

Ottawa was to blame, he said, for enforcing its tight money policy in Canada.

Premier Bennett termed the tight money policy "a crime against the working people, the business people, the women and children in this nation.

The premier said the $100,000,000 appropriated by Ottawa for culture should have been taken out over 10 years, not in one year.

"Isn't that an endowment?" asked someone.

"Yes, an endowment," the premier replied.

"Well why don't you be honest about it," said the voice.

WHY ATTACK OTHERS

"Mr. Premier, you asked why the other parties were attacking you," said another voice. "Why are you attacking them?"

"I want to show how hollow they are, my friend," he said.

"Well, you better show a little better," the heckler said.

"Shut up," said someone else.

A few minutes later the premier brought up the subject of the torn-up Malahat and said he had been over it and it was fine for a road under construction.

"You're well padded," yelled someone.

"And the road's well-graded," said the premier.

Speaking of the export of iron ore to the U.S., the premier said if the practice were allowed to continue all there would be left in Canada would be a hole in the ground.

"Throw the Grits into it," said a Socred supporter.

"There's too much grit in the machine now," thundered Premier Bennett.

AGAINST FIELD

In this election, he said, it was Social Credit against the field, make no mistake about that.

Earlier, Victoria candidate Waldo Skillings described his Liberal opponent, Dr. F. T. Fairey as having a philosophy of: "Hear no Victoria, See no Victoria, Speak no Victoria," and said the only job the Liberal member had done during the past four years was to sponsor a bill doubling pipeline stock for capitalization.

Child Takes Death Leap

A 14-year-old girl, Olga Cassanova, plunges 11 floors to her death in New York after a scolding by her aunt, Marie Monell, had angered her. The girl climbed out on a ledge and walked on it for a half-hour as policemen pleaded with her to come inside. A native of the Virgin Islands, Olga finally slipped off ledge, held on for a moment by her fingers and then let go.—(CPC)

Chiang Sends In Army To End Anti-U.S. Riots

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chiang Kai - shek moved 33,000 troops into Taipei overnight to end anti-American rioting which wrecked the U.S. Embassy and injured nine Americans.

Reuters said 10 persons were killed or wounded when police opened fire on a howling mob of 30,000 trying to storm the Taipei police station.

At one stage a frenzied mob of 3,000 took over the Embassy compound. They stoned the two - storey, grey brick building, broke windows and worked their way inside, smashing furnishings and scattering documents. They hauled down a U.S. flag and tore it to shreds.

Other rioters moved on the two-storey building of the U.S. information agency, some distance from the Embassy, and left it in wreckage. They unsuccessfully attacked a U.S. communications centre.

Rioters tossed stones at U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin and George Yeh, foreign minister for Nationalist China. Yeh was hit by one stone.

Finally, the mobs, grown to 20,000 or 30,000, besieged the city's police headquarters demanding release of prisoners taken in the earlier rioting. This siege lasted six hours and ended only with a declaration of martial law and the arrival of the first contingents of troops.

That evidently saved Taipei from a bloodbath.

The mob action was set off by reaction to the U.S. court martial of an American soldier who shot to death a Chinese he accused as a peeping Tom. The soldier, Master Sgt. Robert R. Reynolds of Colora, Md., was acquitted Thursday. He was hustled out of Formosa—guarded by 67 police—before the violence broke out.

Too Long On Speech

Premier Bennett told his audience at the Royal Theatre last night that he quit the Conservative party because it was "long on speeches and short on performance."

He went on to speak for 105 minutes, then was on his feet for much of the 25-minute question period.

Rotary Chief

New governor of Rotary District 502, which covers part of British Columbia and Washington, is former MLA Herbert J. Welch of Qualicum Beach. Election took place at annual convention of Rotary International in Lucerne, Switzerland.

Foxy Got Away

English Bushes Echo to Hunt

SOUTHEND, England (Reuters)—Around the bend in the road came a man walking at top speed. From the bushes sprang half a dozen policemen. In an instant they had thrown a canvas sheet over his startled head.

This was the latest episode, here Friday, in what has become a 10-day classical cops-and-robber hunt for a 33-year-old, scar-faced, tattooed Welshman. He is William (Foxy) Fowler, who escaped from Dartmoor, Britain's "escape-proof" penitentiary May 14.

AMONG FRIENDS

But the struggling man under the canvas the weary policemen had trapped so triumphantly turned out to be a long-distance walker—and a fellow policeman.

Before his colleagues had cornered him, he was several hundred yards ahead of the others in the walking race.

By now, the cross-country chase, with the wily prisoner always one jump ahead of hundreds of policemen and their bewildered dogs, has taken on something of the atmosphere of a jerky, silent Keystone Cops movie—although Britons have been warned by their newspapers that Foxy is not a type to be held up to admiration.

FIRST IN 100 YEARS

Fowler, small but tough, was serving a five-year sentence in Dartmoor—from which no escaped prisoner has remained uncaptured in the last 100 years.

His crime was breaking into a store and garage and possessing a revolver and ammunition.

When he made his break, he had already served almost half the sentence.

Throughout the hunt, Foxy has won the secret admiration of many Britons by his ingenuity and sense of sportsmanship.

BOAT GROUNDS

At one time during the early part of the chase, a man now believed to have been Fowler was arrested on a military research base off Foulness Island in the Thames Estuary as a possible spy.

When picked up by the war department police after his small sailing craft ran aground, he gave his name as "Reginald Fowler." They let him go, convinced he was not in foreign pay.

So off he went again, making eastward all the time until he reached this southeast coast resort town.

Thursday, he made an attempt to grab a girl's bicycle, but obstinately she clung to it, shouting: "You can't have it."

Foxy made no sign of fighting for the bicycle, nor did he raise a hand against the girl.

Tory Blow to Solar Plexus

Liberals Are Worried

Talking Politics By Peter Bruton

A hard-hitting blow has been driven deep into the solar plexus of the Liberal party in B.C. by the successful campaign waged here by Conservative leader John Diefenbaker.

(The dictionary defines solar plexus as "a complex of nerves at the pit of the stomach"—a pretty good description of what the Liberals are suffering from today.)

Mr. Diefenbaker's campaign, to a lesser extent, has also hurt the federal ambitions of Social Credit, not so much in B.C. perhaps but in other parts of Canada where the Socreds hoped to make inroads.

It would be rash to say the Liberals fear defeat in the June 10 election.

But Mr. Diefenbaker's record-shattering meetings have suddenly brought them face to face with the fact their public support is waning and waning fast. And with this comes the worry they will lose some B.C. seats.

Considered likely standings of the parties after June 10, with the old standings in brackets: Social Credit 8 (4), Liberals 4 (8), CCF 5 (7), and Conservatives 5 (3).

Actually the telling point in Mr. Diefenbaker's campaign in this province was not what he said but the huge crowds which turned up to hear him speak—1,000 in Penticton, 4,000 in Victoria, and 6,000 in Vancouver.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent could only draw about half this number and his speeches were marked by a fair amount of heckling. But the audiences who heard the Tory leader were enthusiastic and were marked by a complete absence of heckling.

This question of comparative audience sizes is the item which will likely hurt Social Credit in the East.

The immediate reaction of easterners reading of the huge crowds will be one of: "If the Tories can draw that many in the very fortress of Social Credit it shows that British Columbians are fed up with the Socreds."

After all it's not much of an advertisement for the Socreds when a party Premier Bennett describes as "finished" is the number one drawing card in the enemy's camp.

The Liberals say it's a healthy sign to see such a resurgence being made by the Conservatives. (There's a song which goes "Laughing on the Outside, Crying on the Inside"). But at the same time they point out that the size of political audiences means nothing.

That could be true but it's a far different tack from their course of a few weeks ago when their apologists gleefully reported how Prime Minister St. Laurent outdrew national Socred leader Solon Low in Saskatchewan and how the elderly prime minister and his wandering cabinet were speaking to huge crowds.

Now, they assert, it means nothing.

The pattern of the Liberal attack for the remainder of the campaign, which has only a little more than two weeks to run, will probably be one of running down the Tories.

But it all adds up to one thing—the Liberals are worried in B.C.

Hit-Run Victim Critically Hurt

A well-known veteran Pacific Coast tugboat skipper, Capt. George Laird, 79, 2763 Winster Road, Langford, was in critical condition in St. Joseph's Hospital last night following a hit-and-run accident at Langford.

He was apparently walking down Atkins Road near Millstream when struck by a car shortly before 10 p.m. An official at St. Joseph's Hospital said he suffered "multiple injuries," including a broken leg.

His wife and bride of two years, Mrs. Kathleen Laird said: "He was coming to meet me at St. Mary's Priory as he does every night."

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

REMARKABLY few persons can write in a simple, clear way. The pen is a wand that changes fluent companions into pompous bores. The typewriter, like the camera, brings on paralysis. Aim a camera at an average human, and his face takes on a half-witted smirk. Place an orator, or a party wit, at the keyboard, and his fine words freeze into [illegible] cliches.

Clear writing takes practice and hard work. Some amateurs achieve clarity. Some professionals never do, but these ones are condemned to stay in the minor leagues, aren't we?

Recently I was privileged to be one of 22 judges in Liberty magazine's $2,000 "Why I Love Canada" essay contest. I was pleased to see that the majority of the panel made the same choice for the first-place essay as I did.

In many of the essays that reached the finals, the effect was marred by patches of high-toned phoney cuteness. But the winning essay rings true from beginning to end—except for one phrase that appears hackneyed and sour: ". . . a wandering wind of unrest."

The winning essay was written by Peter Cliffe, 27, of Downsview, Ontario, and appears in the June issue of Liberty magazine. I'm reprinting it here, partly because I think it's a fine essay, but mainly because it will save me the trouble of writing a column myself:

"I was raised among the rolling fields and sleepy market towns of England's Lincolnshire. For 24 years, I was as English as afternoon tea, and content with the life I led. Then a wayward wind of unrest drew me Westward three thousand miles, and gave me a life to rebuild here in Ontario, with the experience of the Old World to help me and the knowledge of the New World yet to be learned.

"Two years have gone by since then, and Canada has changed for me from a country full of unknown quantities to a friendly homeland already rich in memories. Today, I remember England with affection and gratitude; but it is to Canada that I look for my future.

"Canada is not just a country or a way of life. It is a state of mind. It is a faith in yourself and the land on which you stand; a belief in the permanency of a decent way of life; and an awareness that the God who spread Canada between two oceans, did so with love.

"Canada, for me, is a series of vivid impressions. It is Muskoka, with a driving rain coming in off the lake; or Niagara Falls, gay with summer tourists and the spray rising like a veil. Or it is the Magnetawan River on a crisp morning in early summer, when the groundmist hangs like smoke. Again, it is Lake Ontario in the humid heat of an August evening, the blue sky darkening into night, and the highway crowded with traffic. It is the small towns, scarlet with maples in the fall; the old towns that dream of the past; and the great cities that stride into the future.

"It is the poetry of Pauline Johnson; the novels of Hugh MacLennan; a concert on CBC television; the rhythm of a hillbilly group at a Farmer's Market on a Sunday evening.

"I like the way the Canadians deck their streets for Christmas, and the noisy groups at roadside picnic tables in the summer. I share their pride in themselves, and their awareness that they, too, are building a great America. I like to sit with them over a drink in the evening, hearing Canadian voices telling Canadian stories, and taking part in the swift give-and-take of good-natured repartee.

"My fortune has been to meet Canadians in many walks of life. I have driven miles with two young mechanics, come east from Saskatchewan to see Ontario. The evenings I spent with a young clerk, from New Brunswick, have left many pleasant memories. I count among my closest friends a former Hudson Bay storekeeper; a farming family in Prince Edward County; a would-be writer; and a boiler-room engineer, whose hobby is psychology.

"From these, and many more, I have known an eager hospitality and a warm friendship. I have reason to be grateful to these Canadians, because they helped me understand something of this great and complex country, and enabled me to adjust myself to the tempo of her life.

"Now, when I walk through the downtown crowds of a great city, or stroll beneath the maples flanking the Main Street of a sleepy country town, I do so in the knowledge that I am part of this great and growing country; that its ways are my ways and I have much contentment in knowing that this is my country—my Canada."

Fairey Gives Rodd Hill Plan

Fort Rodd Hill probably will be established as a permanent national historic site, Dr. F. T. Fairey said this week.

Resources Minister Jean Lesage called the proposal "a very fine idea," Dr. Fairey said.

It is on the agenda of the Historic Sites Committee which meets in Ottawa next month, and "I'm quite sure we can have it established as a permanent historical site."

'All Issues Are Local'

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes last night lectured Liberal candidate Paul Martin for criticizing Progressive Conservative John Diefenbaker for confining his remarks to local issues in his tour across Canada.

"National issues only arise out of a number of local problems," the Progressive Conservative candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich told a Brentwood meeting.

"The farmers are being caught in a squeeze here and all across Canada," he said. "They are faced with rising costs for everything they must buy and falling prices for everything they have to sell."

Work must be done at Sidney to improve berthing and docks to make it easy for visiting vessels to go through customs, he said.

"The tourist industry is vitally important to many people on the Island and one thing the tourists expect is to be able to get on and off the Island easily . . . and good facilities for boats."

He said the Liberals had ignored a growing inflation problem for years then imposed credit restrictions that are forcing the "small man into bankruptcy."

West Germans Won't Promise

BONN, Germany (UP)—West Germany refused yesterday to abandon atomic rearmament and called on Russia to state once and for all its price for German reunification.

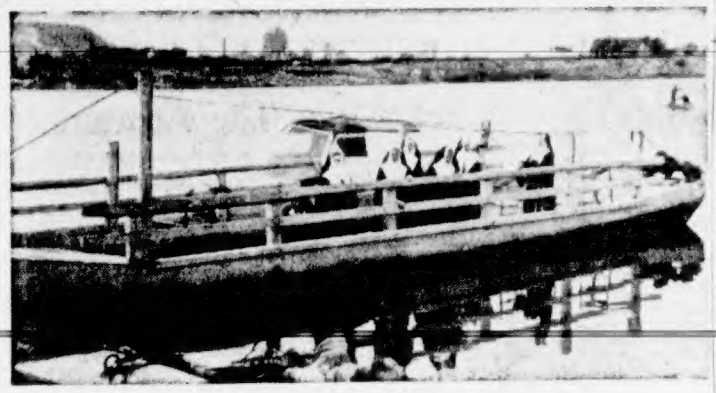
But despite the growing sharpness of political relations between the two countries, the Bonn government prepared to open trade talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow next month.

The notes came as Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived in New York on his way to two days of talks with President Eisenhower.

The latest moves were publication of the new "atomic" note delivered by Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano to Soviet Ambassador Adrei Smirnov in Bonn Tuesday, and delivery of a new note of reunification to the Kremlin by Dr. Wilhelm Haas, West Germany's ambassador to Moscow.

At the same time, Britain and Germany announced agreement in London to seek pooled development of guided missiles and other weapons of the future.

The "atomic" note warned flatly that West Germany would not renounce the right to arm its young army with atomic weapons. But it denied that the army had such weapons at present or had ever asked for any. It also denied Soviet charges that West Germany had been transformed into an atomic base for NATO.



Nuns Lose Home

These nuns, members of the Congregation of Notre Dame, board a ferry for their last trip from Nuns' Island in the St. Lawrence River—a settlement their order has occupied for more than 250 years—after the federal department of transport expropriated land on the island for a new bridge. The island community was used by the order for ailing, aged and convalescent nuns. —(CP) added protection for you, your wife and your children!

NOW—

As do most thoughtful family men, you undoubtedly have insurance on your own life. Probably, you would also like to strengthen your Life insurance program with added protection on yourself, and also on your wife and children.

Metropolitan now has a new Family Plan which provides additional coverage for you and the eligible members of your immediate family with a single policy.

There are many advantages to a single policy for your whole family, including low premium cost . . . convenience of paying one premium . . . and simplicity of keeping records.

Here are some of its features:

For you — Permanent Life insurance with the usual cash and loan values . . . and with the special attraction of a reduced premium guaranteed for the first five years.

For your wife — Term insurance on her life of about one-fourth the amount of your insurance under this policy . . . continuing to the time you would be 85.

For your children between the ages of 14 days and 18 years — term insurance on each child until age 25. The premium is the same regardless of the number of children, and those born after the policy comes into effect will be automatically covered.

Moreover, when each child reaches age 25, he can apply for insurance on a permanent plan up to five times the amount of his insurance without medical examination. The amount of the premium for this new insurance will depend on the type of policy then selected.

In addition, if you should die, the Insurance under this policy on your wife and children would continue just as if you had lived — with no more premiums to pay.

Your Metropolitan Representative will welcome the opportunity to explain all the advantages of the new Metropolitan Family Policy and show you that

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone

Air Traffic Intensifying

THE revival by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce of a special committee to deal with aviation on the southern section of Vancouver Island is a timely, useful step. Air traffic is growing steadily here. In addition to scheduled passenger services by established airlines and the growing volume of military flight on this seaboard, there has been a marked increase in the number of charter services between the Island and the Mainland. On top of that remains to be superimposed the operation of civilian flying clubs, air-tourism and the expanding number of privately-owned aircraft used for pleasure and business purposes.

The recent provision of a seaplane dock in Esquimalt harbor by commercial interests is a good example of the changing needs of the times. As yet Victoria has made no definite arrangements for helicopter accommodation close to the city itself. That goes also for the absence of an "airpark" catering to private flight, as distinct from commercial aviation in all of its forms. Roughly it is either Patricia Bay for wheeled-landing aircraft, or Esquimalt and on occasion Victoria harbor for seaplanes or flying boats operating apart from the scheduled air services in this region. There remains a considerable gap, one in which for instance air-tourism is hardly catered to at all.

There should be plenty of work for the aviation committee of the chamber to do in striving for the gradual improvement of flight facilities on the one hand, and public convenience and reasonable accessibility to patrolled landing grounds on the other. While Patricia Bay must always be a tremendous asset to Victoria for its large capacity and the diversification of field and machine shop facilities, these alone are not sufficient to a rounded-out development of aviation contacts in the Greater Victoria region. Sooner or later both airparks and helicopter ports much closer to the city's environs will be found essential.

However, the new committee will be a start along the line of studying what can be done to meet the needs of the present, and prospecting for solutions of what inevitably will have to be undertaken to take care of Victoria's future interests in relation to the question. There is no doubt whatever that air traffic is growing and will continue to grow by leaps and bounds. All communities on Vancouver Island will want their proper places in that, and this result should from the outset be a co-ordinated one.

Speeding Treated as Crime

A TRAFFIC case which went to the Supreme Court of Alberta recently contained a moral worth studying by the authorities in this province, where the problem of excessive speed is causing widespread anxiety. It is customary here for motorists who drive at speeds far above the legal limit, even twice as fast as the law allows, to be charged under provincial statutes, thereby placing speeding in the category of a misdemeanor rather than a crime. Punishment usually is measured accordingly, and appears to be influenced to a large extent by the mistaken assumption that because an accused driver was lucky enough not to kill someone he has not done anything seriously wrong.

In the case in Alberta a motorist who drove at 100 miles an hour at night on a 50-mile-an-hour highway was charged not simply with exceeding the speed limit but with criminal negligence. There had not been an accident; but the prosecution alleged and the Supreme Court held that the accused was guilty of a serious crime apart from any provincial speed laws. The vital part of the charge of negligence was the word "criminal."

Prosecutions under the Criminal Code are common after speed maniacs have killed and maimed but rare when luck stayed with them, though all the ingredients of criminal negligence may have been present. If the Code were invoked more often where circumstances warrant, some of the too-lenient magistrates who impose nominal fines for speeding at 90 miles an hour or more would be put in the position of having to view the potential danger of such speeds with the gravity it deserves. It is a fallacy that outrageous speed is a trivial offence so long as no one is hurt. It is what could happen—and all too often does—which should be the governing consideration.

Glossing the Facts

LIBERAL candidates are resorting to devious twists to explain away the niggardly $6 increase in old-age pensions. On the one hand they say now these pensions are a provincial responsibility, while on the other they claim credit for having instituted the pension. The antiquated provisions of the BNA act will not save them.

The federal government long ago accepted the onus of social security of this nature in view of the development of modern society and conditions of life. That is why in the former pension, before it became automatic and universal at 70 years of age, the federal share was the predominant one. Now it is underwritten by direct and indirect taxation on a federal, national basis. What the provinces do is supplement the pension in means-test cases by various amounts, and B.C. is in the forefront of such assistance. The Liberals cannot wriggle out on that count.

In Vancouver one Liberal candidate seeks to offset criticism by stating that his party doesn't claim that the old-age pension scheme is the last word, but that it is a good beginning. For a party that has been in power for the last 22 years the reverse is obviously very much the case; it is a very skimpy beginning. In Victoria a Liberal candidate is reported on this subject as saying "We have nothing to be ashamed of." Six dollars, apparently, makes them very proud.

By any kind of measurement and by any criterion the pension increase of $6 is contemptible. No amount of specious argument by Liberal candidates can alter that, or the fact that the responsibility for such a measly increase lies squarely at the door of the Liberal government and no one else. Fortunately old-age pensioners are not likely to be deceived by the verbal tricks of individuals who hope by glossing the facts to secure seats in Parliament for themselves.

The former, also, will be free to demonstrate by action on June 10 what they think of the treatment accorded by the Liberals to elderly people in financial distress.

British Industry in Front

By BERNARD KAPLAN

North American Newspaper Affiance

PARIS — A slambang atomic sales battle is shaping up between Great Britain and America. At stake is a juicy order worth $5,000,000,000—and the giant's share has got to go to either British or American industry. Britain, for the moment, is out in front.

This huge sum is the amount which six Western European nations, the members of Euratom, are being urged by their top experts to invest during the next 10 years in industrial atomic power stations. It is a far more ambitious and accelerated program than anything which was under consideration even as late as a year ago—before the Suez crisis revealed how cripplingly dependent Europe is on imported fuel.

Tee speed-up in atomic power development is designed to remove that handicap. And, as the experts make clear in their report, only the U.S. and Britain are in a position to supply the vast amounts of nuclear equipment that will be needed.

Expectations are that the Euratom members—France, West Germany, Italy and the Benelux countries—will begin placing large-scale orders for atomic reactors immediately after the Euratom treaty is fully ratified later this year. But the experts' committee, headed by France's Louis Armand, says it is undecided whose reactors to recommend for purchase. So American and British representatives are wasting no time plunging into their multibillion-dollar sales spiel.

Only two kinds of reactors are ready for commercial use. One, known as the gas-cooled "Pippa" type, is British. The other, the pressurized-water "Shippingport" reactor, is American. The British reactor costs more to build, but its American rival eats up more atomic fuel. They both end up producing atomic power for about the same cost.

That makes super-salesmanship vital, and the British, often accused of being stody in their selling technique, seem to have a marked lead right now over the usually faster talking Americans. They have benefitted from a highly publicized commercial nuclear power program at home which indisputably is ahead of anything yet done in the U.S.

German, French and Belgian government and business executives are being ferried across the English Channel in squads to be given a glimpse of the shiny new atomic power station at Calder Hall. They have headed back to Lille, Dusseldorf and Brussels with glowing reports. One big German industrial group is reported already negotiating for purchase of a large "Pippa" reactor for an all-nuclear power network in the Ruhr. Belgian and Dutch companies also have been talking business with the British.

Hurting U.S. prospects is the Europeans' awareness that American experts are still arguing among themselves whether their pressurized-water reactor is as versatile as the British type. Some American experts propose that the U.S. should also develop gas-cooled reactors.

"Get back in there; everything's simpler that way"

Alaska Road

By FRANK KELLEY

I NEVER heard the inside story concerning the final decision to locate the Alaska Highway through Alberta when so much time had been spent on finding a more direct route through British Columbia. Lacking more convincing reasons, the choice was attributed to momentous happenings that were pointing to world conflict, evidently rated as imminent by thoughtful men familiar with the trend of world conditions as these developed in the late 1930s, when it was obvious to the average side-liner, anything might happen. And did.

Interested in what appeared to be the natural road route connecting continental U.S. with its Alaskan Territory, and what it would mean if located through British Columbia, the Colonist devoted considerable space to the practical interest that was being displayed in determining the most advantageous way by groups of B.C. land surveyors employing the most modern practices known to the profession, with added emphasis supplied through camera lenses manipulated by qualified operators in aerial photography.

It was my pleasure to follow the reports of the surveys along the Rocky Mountain Trench. Prominent on those surveys, organized by Surveyor-General Green, were Frank Swanell and four photo-topographical parties who worked between Finlay Forks and Sifton Pass that year; while in co-operation with them the air photography was accomplished under the direction of Gerald Andrews, present surveyor-general. Photo-topographical parties were in charge of B.C. land surveyors R. D. McCaw, A. J. Campbell, N. C. Stewart and G. J. Jackson.

Some of the progress reports made by the parties mentioned were recalled recently when I came into possession of a hefty pamphlet, the contents of which were reprinted from the Geographical Journal, July, 1942. It was authored by Captain G. S. Andrews, RCE, who, while serving with Royal Canadian Engineers overseas, delivered a noteworthy and comprehensive sketch of the Alaska Highway survey at a meeting of the British Geographical Society (March 2, 1942).

In a scholarly pattern, Captain Andrews gave a complete presentation of what had been accomplished in making the survey along the Rocky Mountain Trench. Sketching historical facts pertinent to the North American story which began four centuries ago when Champlain explored the St. Lawrence River, looking for a waterway to China, he touched on happenings in between until the perfection of the automobile sparked the incentive for roads whose horizons were the seas and meant the conquest of all distances in the pursuit of man's destiny. This activated interest in the Alaska Highway project in 1929, when the U.S. became concerned in connecting by road its Alaskan territory with the continental domain.

Citing two possible highway routes through British Columbia, actual surveys of the groups mentioned were confined to parts of the Trench route; and these should be of great assistance in connection with the exploration that must be devoted to this important area of B.C. by the promoters of the Wenner-Gren interests in what could be a highly mineralized area of a province favored with natural resource possibilities.

Captain Andrews was introduced to the society members by president Sir George Clark as "a British Columbian who had served his government well in the survey of the Alaska Highway." His lecture created considerable interest and promoted general discussion pertinent to the subject.

Reports from Ottawa

RIGHT up until May 14, Prime Minister St. Laurent's one election promise was to make no election promises. He made that pledge on April 29.

But by May 18 this promise had gone the traditional way of all election promises. That was the day the PM promised that if re-elected he would raise the wages of 130,000 civil servants.

It may be significant that this represents the second recent shift in the PM's electioneering tactics. During the earlier part of his political travels he kept away from controversial questions. He pounded the prosperity drum and paraded his government's record, but he wouldn't come to grips with opposition criticism of his administration. Editorials began to remark on this, and Uncle Louie's speeches have lately taken on more pertinency and fire.

One inference might be drawn from all this—and the Tories are drawing it—is that the Liberals have become apprehensive that Conservative leader Diefenbaker is making important gains with his promises and his fighting issues.

Election promises do not roll easily from lips which have dictated Parliament's business for nine years. The government doesn't want to invite public inquiry as to why it has not already done what it now promises on the eve of the election.

Seemingly the PM tried to forestall such reaction to his promise of a civil service raise. He said the reason the government had not already granted the increase was that it wanted to let its "real bosses," the voters, decide whether it or another government should deal with this matter.

Perhaps the best one can say about this rather remarkable statement is that it is not St. Laurent's wont to defer decisions pending a vote of confidence from the electorate.

In Saskatchewan, where they want a dam and power project in the worst way, Trade Minister Howe hinted that this could follow re-election of the Liberal government. And in British Columbia, where the Grits have been in trouble since the start of the campaign, Fisheries Minister Sinclair resorted to promises early in the game.

Sinclair's first and biggest carrot for dangling in front of B.C. voters was a promise of federal aid in the construction of the Mica dam on the Upper Columbia. Since then he has promised that the government will pave the Alaska Highway and—faint hope—will try to get the Americans to surrender a route or routes through the Alaska Panhandle to the sea.

Meanwhile the opposition parties are displaying a lack of inhibition so far as promises are concerned. The prime minister, who cannot compete, has found this extremely annoying, and has disclosed his feelings in his speeches.

The opposition is enticing voters with promises to build the South Saskatchewan dam and the Chebucto canal, increase social security payments, provide parity price support for farm products, sell wheat, protect the farmers against imports, give labor better wage and hour minima, and build roads in the north.

"A party of the opposition," Mr. St. Laurent said April 30, "must be in a position to present a program which is apt to satisfy better the needs and aspirations of the voters . . ."

He surely cannot accuse the Tories, socialists and Socreds of not trying.

The Packsack

For Ladies Over Forty

By GREGORY CLARK

SOME of the nicest women I know are past their youth, and have long lost their girlish figures. To tell the truth they are a little large in spots.

These spots are not universal amongst women. After they get into their forties or fifties, some are large here and others are large there. This makes it very difficult for the clothing designers and manufacturers. In dealing with young women, it is very easy to design a size 12 or 16. You can figure, within a very narrow margin, just where the lumps will be. And the variations you have to allow for are very slight in turning out a hundred or a thousand size 12 or 16.

But after forty or so, standardization is out of the question. The ladies grow in any direction, some of them very unexpected. And this makes a headache for the clothing manufacturer and a heartache for the ladies over forty. How often do they not find the most beautiful and attractive frocks that fit perfectly here, but won't do at all there! I imagine the undying popularity of the mink coat is that it is fashionable, and covers all the bumps. It fits anybody.

Now you may well wonder what an old gentleman like me, a mere angler and collector of old books, is doing venturing into a subject such as this. Well, I have good news for the ladies of mature design.

My wife and I were looking in the maternity department of our favorite department store, in search of some pretty little blouses and expandable skirts to send out west in honor of a new expected grandchild, when we came upon a rack of short coats or sport shirts intended for the expectant mother, and they were of the most exciting and attractive materials. Good, big and roomy, they were striped, and flowered, or were brassy gold, or heavenly blue. We fondled them. We glanced at the tickets to see the sizes. Then we looked at each other in a wild surmise.

"How would I look," whispered my wife, "in one of these?"

"In the canoe," I whispered back, "magnificent!"

For it is sport clothes that are most disastrous on the matronly matron.

So in less time than it takes to tell, we had picked out three of them, perfectly wonderful for fishing, walking on portages, lounging on cottage verandas.

And this is a secret we wouldn't impart to everybody. Only to the firm-built ladies past their youth, who have been neglected, forgotten and cast into limbo by the dress trade.

City Notebook

Nobody Knows The Answers

By ORMOND MARRION

A FAIR number of people have asked in the last two or three weeks how hard the new business tax is going to hit the average business in Victoria.

The only answer at this time is an unsatisfactory one: no one knows. The mayor doesn't know, the city manager doesn't know, the chairman of the business tax committee doesn't know, even the assessor-collector would be silly to hazard a guess. But they all seem to feel fairly sure that the new business tax won't come as a crippling blow to businesses.

No one will be able to give a much better answer until the fall. All that council has decided so far is to institute a business tax that, together with trades-licence fees, will bring in $460,000 this year.

Trades-licence fees alone brought in a shade less than $300,000 last year. But that does not mean that Joe's Haberdashery, which paid $150 in trades-licence fees in 1956, will pay $230 this year. Joe may pay only the same amount as last year; may even pay less, if he is one of the fortunate ones, and if council decides to refund trades-licence fees when, and to the extent that, they exceed the business tax.

(This is another important but unanswered question. So far, council has only indicated that trades-licence fees will be credited against business tax and deducted from it. It has not indicated that it will go the step farther and allow businesses a partial rebate on licence fees if the business tax is smaller.)

A summer's hard and hurried work must be done before anyone will know how the business man will be affected by the business tax. All that is known now is that the city intends to raise $460,000 by collecting from businesses a percentage of the assessed annual rental values of the premises they occupy.

Rental appraisers will be busy through the summer measuring and estimating, and when this initial task is complete, they will be able to tell city council that the assessed rental value of business property in Victoria is so much—say, for the purposes of illustration, $46,000,000. Council can then set the rate at which the tax will be levied—in this purely hypothetical case, 10 per cent—and the individual business man, having his assessed rental value before him, will know how hard he is going to be hit.

A few businesses that have not paid trades-licence fees will pay business tax, and some of the firms with large premises undoubtedly will pay far more in business tax than they have paid in licence fees. Whether or not these extra contributions will add up to $160,000 and thus save the "average" business from paying more this year than last is another unanswered question.

Two more questions, at least, remain to be answered in connection with the new business tax.

The first is whether council will see fit, toward the end of the year, to abolish most trades licences as of the begining of next year and reduce the remainder to a nominal level, two or three or five dollars, as recommended by City Manager C. C. Wyatt.

The main reason for introducing business tax was that the present trades-licence system is admittedly unfair. The licence fees lack relation, in almost all cases, to the amount of business done. The original basis for the fees was apparently the degree of need for policing and regulation, and the differences along with the fees have been multiplied many times in the course of the years.

To keep the licence fees at their present levels, therefore, would be to perpetuate the unfairness in cases in which the licence fees exceeded business tax.

The other question is whether or not council will decide, eventually, on graduation of the business tax. Provision is made in the Municipal Act for classification of businesses and a graduated tax. Barbers might pay tax on, say, 70 per cent of their annual rental values, lawyers on 150 per cent, car dealers on 40 per cent, and so forth.

The system invariably seems to lead to a multiplicity of classifications and complications and be just as unfair as, or more unfair than, the present trades-licence system. To classify businesses, council would have to decide practically without evidence on the comparative potential profits of each of perhaps hundreds of types of businesses. That job is one that aldermen would seem unlikely to want.

With the Classics

And Deering's Woods are fresh and fair,
And with joy that is almost pain
My heart goes back to wander there,
And among the dreams of the days that were,
I find my lost youth again.
And the strange and beautiful song,
The groves are repeating it still:
"A boy's will is the wind's will,
And the thoughts of youth are long, long thoughts."

Letters to the Editor

Let's Keep Our Water Pure

If, as is stated by Dr. W. W. McLuhan (see article on page 21, Colonist, May 18), 20 cups of tea contain more fluorine in one day than fluoridated water would provide in 10 years, then by simple mathematics, two cups per day would equal an intake of one year's supply of fluoridated water, and surely most adults consume that much.

As he also states "children are not given tea," would not the simplest solution be:

(a) Feed the children (those whose parents think they need it) fluorine in one of the present marketable forms.

(b) Leave our water system and power supply alone and let the adult population continue to get its supply of fluorine as at present, i.e., tea, seafood, celery, etc., as he states it is doing.

It would appear from most of the letters and articles you have published from time to time (and very interesting they have been) that only a comparatively small group of "authority" (and these by no means unanimously) is in favor of taking away just one more of the freedoms for which over a million Canadians fought.

Yours for a pure water supply,

R. AVERY.

The Country Approved

In these days of political campaigning I notice that much is being said about the increase of $6 in the old-age security pension passed by the last parliament. The amount of the increase is called "niggardly," "mean," "insufficient" and maybe other names.

It has to be remembered that the old-age security pension was passed by parliament in 1951; it came into operation in January, 1952. There was a general election in 1953, when the government then in power was returned to power. The basis and principle of the pension was therefore approved by both parliament and people in 1953. The basis of the amount may be assumed to be the cost of living at the time of its passing or at its commencement.

I am vitally interested in this as I am one of those who has received this pension from the beginning. For this reason I wrote to the Bureau of Statistics for the particulars, and have now received a reply. I find that the cost of living index in January 1952 was 118.2, so that must have been the basis for the $40. On April 1, 1957, the index was 120.9.

So there was an increase of 2.7 in the cost of living since January, 1952. This would justify an increase of about $1 in the amount of the pension. But the increase is $6. The extra $5 must be for the purpose that the aged may share in the general prosperity of the country. So much for "niggardly" and "mean."

Now, with regard to "insufficient." I think it will be admitted that a person cannot live on $40 or even $46 a month. But that was not the intention of this pension. The care of the sick, aged and infirm rests mainly on the province or through the province on the local authority. The federal government certainly did not intend to relieve the provinces of this responsibility. If therefore anyone receives "insufficient" he should go to the appropriate office of his province or city or municipality.

Disrespect at Cenotaph

Having enjoyed a wonderful day in your city on the celebration of Queen Victoria Day, and seen the excellent parade put on by the armed forces, also merchants and service clubs, which was enjoyed very much, it was marred by only one incident which I as an ex-serviceman (1939-45) resent very much.

It happened at the legislative building grounds during the display by the Queen's Own Rifles. While waiting for the proceedings to start I happened to be near the Cenotaph, and to my amazement there were people clambering all over it to get a better view of the proceedings, and under their feet were wreaths placed there by loved ones, which in some cases were being stepped on.

Now I am not a crank, but this was too much. So seeing one of your policemen—and a sergeant at that—standing nearby, I asked him if he would ask these people to climb down off the Cenotaph. Surprise No. 2: he told me that it was not a grave, just a monument, and walked off. Of all the cenotaphs all over Canada, are they not the only graves that those comrades who sleep on foreign soil have in Canada?

It is the first time and I hope the last that I will see such a fine body of men as the QORs pay their respects to their fallen comrades with a smart eyes right to a cenotaph marred by a swarm of ignorant people.

Capitalists to Rescue

Please permit me to comment on Mrs. A. Marshall's letter re old-age pensions in your issue of May 22.

Where would the funds come from to pay the pension if there were no capitalists or if we all spent our earnings as fast as we received them?

We had the means test for quite some time and did not find it very satisfactory; it encouraged falsehood and dishonesty, and the cost of maintaining all the inspectors and staff was pretty well equal to if not greater than the benefits we rich folk will receive from the pension in view of the fact we must pay an extra 2 per cent sales tax and 2 per cent extra on our entire income up to an amount of $60 each year, plus the full income tax levy on the $480 we receive.

Just put yourself in our position and figure this out and possibly you will not hate those capitalists quite so much.

The Two-Party Issue

Mr. Diefenbaker in his speech on Tuesday evening advocated the freedom of parliament; and after accusing, and rightly, the Liberal government of trampling on the rights of the people's representatives, undid all that he had said in that connection about people's rights when he implied that he believed that there should only be two parties in parliament. In other words that it should be the exclusive preserve of the Liberal and Conservative parties.

Mr. Diefenbaker believes that there is no room in Canada for a third party. What a thought in a country that is proud to call itself a democracy!

The CCF came into existence because it believed, and still believes, that there is no fundamental difference between the Liberal and Conservative parties.

I wonder if the Conservative party in B.C. provincial politics are as strongly against a third or splinter parties where their own would be completely out of the picture, and the Liberals nearly so?

The CCF in parliament year in and year out has consistently fought for a better deal for our elderly and blind people and all in need without any conspicuous support from the Conservative party. Indeed in the last parliament the Conservatives voted with the Liberals to defeat a motion by the CCF to increase old age pensions.

Dignity of the Throne

On May 24, 1819, Queen Victoria was born at Kensington Palace, and it is her birthday that Canadians and English celebrate today. History has told us that no monarch so thoroughly comprehended the great truth that the powers of the Crown are held in trust for the people and are the means, not the end, of government.

This enlightened policy entitled her to the glorious distinction of being, during her lifetime, the most constitutional sovereign England, or any country, had ever seen—a tradition that has been imparted to those who were to succeed her as rulers of Great Britain and of her dominions beyond the seas.

Not less important, too, was the example set by Her Majesty and her consort, Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg, in the practice of every domestic virtue. Their stainless lives, their unobtrusive piety, and the careful education of their children bore rich fruit in the stability of the throne and obtained for the royal family of Great Britain the respect and admiration of all the civilized world.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and His Royal Highness Prince Philip are conducting themselves in the same admirable fashion, bringing dignity to the throne and—to themselves personally—the love of all right-minded people.

City Hospitals Face Long Waiting Lists

Hospital officials haven't been able to specifically pin down cause of an extraordinary [illegible] that has kept Royal Jubilee Hospital filled to capacity all this month, administrator George Masters said yesterday.

But Mr. Masters agreed that the main cause was population growth.

Peak period of hospital occupancy usually comes in February and March, but this year, Mr. Masters said, "it has been this way right from the middle of January."

More than 80 persons were on the waiting list for admittance to Royal Jubilee yesterday, and St. Joseph's Hospital had a waiting list of about 30.

Mr. Masters said hospital officials felt quite confident, however, that the demand for accommodation would drop off within a month.

Canvassers Needed For Solarium Drive

More than 100 canvassers are still needed for the one hour door-to-door drive for Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Volunteers for Esquimalt, Victoria West, Central Junior High School and Central Park areas are urgently required for the June 3 campaign.

During 1956, the Solarium cared for 80 children and gave treatment to 53 out-patients. The cost of the care and operation of the Solarium for the year was $222,957.

The drive is sponsored by the Solarium Junior League and its two chapters which provide sufficient funds annually to maintain the Solarium for two months of the year.

Anyone wishing to volunteer as a canvasser should call 5-3171 or 4-9301.

Writer-Evangelist To Hold Mission

A four-day mission on prayer and the healing power of Jesus Christ by Agnes Sanford, an internationally-known author and speaker, will start at 8 p.m. Monday in St. John's Anglican Church.

The mission, sponsored by the Lessons in Living group of Victoria, will continue at the same time every evening to Thursday.

Mrs. Sanford's books are "The Healing Light," "Oh Watchman" and "Lost Shepherd."

With her husband, Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, an Episcopalian clergyman, she has held missions in many cities in the United States and Canada. Recently they have started a "School of Pastoral Care" in Western Massachusetts.

Message from the Minister

Prayer Master of H-Bomb

(This is another in a series of articles by Greater Victoria clergymen.)

By RT. REV. D. A. G. RANKILOR
Bishop, the Reformed Episcopal Church, Rector, the Church of Our Lord.

What has the church to say—I am constantly asked—in answer to the threat of the H-bomb?

We are living in an age when all mankind stands in the shadow of the greatest destructive force ever controlled. The spectre of utter annihilation hovers over people of every race and creed.

RT. REV. D. A. G. RANKILOR

Has the Church a message of hope and assurance for an anxious world?

In reply, the Church speaks out boldly, with unshakable conviction in the truth she proclaims. Let us look at the facts we face today.

The basic problem, created by possession of a force of such tremendous destructive power, is not a new problem. Neither is it military, nor political. It is moral, and religious. It is universal.

To use or not to use the H-bomb: that is the significant question of this late 20th century. But it is not the supreme question. What we must ask, and answer by our decision, is this: do we or do we not believe that our world, and the whole universe, rest in the Hands of God.

But no moral restraints, I am reminded, are binding upon any godless ideology such as Communism, for example. This is true. But it in no way changes the basic problem. It merely sharpens the dividing line between two titanic forces—good and evil.

Suppose that suddenly, some incident or nation should plunge civilization into a war of utter annihilation—what then? To this possibility the Church replies with a message both timely and timeless.

At the heart of every Christian life there stands invincible a Cross and the Resurrection. We can and ought to look at the worst possibilities without any illusions or despair. Life is just as dear to the Christian as to the non-Christian. But, the Christian knows with positive assurance that death is not a dismal, dead-end street, but an open highway into a limitless future with God.

What part ought you, a Christian man or woman, to take in this universal problem?

Your part must not be that of despair, as though God were sleeping. Your part and mine is to trust implicitly in the goodness and love of God who "for us men, and for our salvation," raised Jesus Christ from the dead, and opened to all mankind the Way of Eternal Life.

The H-bomb is not the greatest power in the world today.

There is a still greater. It is the power of prayer.

Helicopter Circuit of Island May Be Backed by Chamber

Two centennial projects by groups of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce were approved in principle by directors at yesterday's monthly meeting.

The harbor and transportation group announced it planned to sponsor an aerial trip around Vancouver Island using either the new turbine-propelled helicopters now being manufactured by Fairey Aviation, or amphibious plane.

Capt. G. R. Newell, chairman of the groups, said the plan was to circumnavigate the Island in one day. Stops would be made either in sheltered bays, in the case of amphibious transportation, or on suitable land clearings if helicopters were used.

Also approved was the plan of the civic affairs committee to have a gateway erected at Beacon Hill Park from material salvaged from the old legislative buildings and Government House, both of which were recently destroyed by fire.

Knights of Columbus Rally Begins Today

Some 20 councils will be represented at the 46th annual state convention and dinner of the Knights of Columbus which starts today at the Empress Hotel.

The convention will be officially opened this morning when the knights attend high mass at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Dr. Vingo of Nelson, B.C., state deputy of British Columbia, will preside over the convention. J. V. Hughes of New Haven, Conn., will represent the supreme board of governors.

Chairman at the banquet Sunday night will be Alan Ritz, 4201 Tyndall, Grand Knight of the sponsoring Victoria association.

Donald Smith, Victoria MLA, will represent Premier W. A. C. Bennett, and Ald. Austin Curtis will represent Mayor Percy Scurrah at the banquet.

Rev. Brother J. C. Bates, principal of Vancouver College, will be the guest speaker.

RCMP Ride Planned

Plans for an international horse show featuring, it is hoped, the famed RCMP Musical Ride, are being made for Victoria's centennial year.

Don Carley of the Victoria Riding Academy has entered into correspondence with the RCMP on the question of having the riders here, and has been given encouragement to believe it may be possible.

The show which Mr. Carley has in mind for July of 1958 would include all the events which make a horse show colorful, and would be designed to attract entries from both sides of the border.

Surprise Showing in Sprints Helps Vic High to Win Again

Victoria High School athletes, up against their stiffest competition in years, won the annual inter-high school track meet for the 10th straight time at Victoria High yesterday, and took two individual aggregate titles in the bargain. Jim Wilson, left, of Mount View, shared the senior title with Bill Selwood of Oak Bay; Jacquee Wright and Sandra Futcher of Victoria High took senior and junior girls' honors, respectively, and Wayne Farmer of Oak Bay won the junior boys' crown. Vic High won the meet by 15¼ points over Oak Bay.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Showing surprising strength in the events that were figured to be their weakest, Victoria High School runners carried their school to its 10th straight victory in the annual inter-high school track and field meet, but not before one of the closest competitions in the 11-year history of the event.

Going into yesterday's final 19 track events at the Victoria High Gyro track, the defending champions held a one-quarter-point lead over Oak Bay High, which was bidding for its first Roy Jones Memorial Trophy since 1947. And after looking over the two teams most observers, including two high school coaches, thought that Oak Bay would make good on its attempt.

But Vic High never relinquished the lead, although the margin was never more than six points until the final four relays, and won going away, with 162¼ points to Oak Bay's 147.

Mount View placed third with 68 points, nipping a strong finish by Esquimalt, which collected 66¾ points.

SPRINTERS HELD OWN

Biggest surprise of the meet was the showing of the Vic High sprinters, who were considered a poor second to the Oak Bay team. [...] firsts, Vic High sprinters picked up enough seconds and thirds to break even with Oak Bay in the dashes, and the effort was probably the turning point of the meet.

Jacquee Wright of Vic High collected 14 points in the track and field events to win the senior girls' aggregate championship, and teammate Sandra Futcher set one record and tied another to win the junior girls' crown.

Wayne Farmer of Oak Bay, easily the outstanding runner of the meet, won the junior boys' title with 17 points, and Mount View's Jim Wilson and Bill Selwood of Oak Bay shared the senior title with 11½ points each.

FOUR NEW RECORDS

Husky Fred Wright of Mount View set a new record in the first race of the afternoon, doing the 880 in 2.12.7, chopping almost two seconds off the old mark of 2.14.6.

Miss Futcher flashed across the tape in 11.9 seconds in the junior 100-yard dash, one-tenth better than the previous mark. She also tied the 60-yard dash mark in 7.4 seconds.

Gary Millard of Esquimalt, pacing himself beautifully all the way, won the junior boys' mile in the record time of 4.59.1, and Farmer set a new junior 440-yard mark of 55.5 seconds.

Another record was equalled in the junior girls' 220-yard relay, when the Victoria High team clinched the meet with a time of 27 seconds.

Indians Spurt Without Score; Campanella Blasts End Slump

It's about time that major league baseball fans, who have been talking all season about the Cincinnati Reds, Milwaukee Braves, Chicago White Sox and the slumping New York Yankees, stopped to pay some heed to the Cleveland Indians.

Not considered as too serious a threat at the start of the season, the Indians were practically off when Score, their southpaw ace, was put out of action more than two weeks ago.

It was the kind of a blow which would take the starch out of any club but the Indians, their veteran starters and young relievers performing brilliantly, actually stepped up their pace.

They made it 11 wins in their last 14 games by edging out the leading Chicago White Sox, 4-3, last night to move within two games of the American League lead.

AMERICAN LEAGUE	W	L	Pct.	GBL

New York Yankees, who have shown signs in the last three days of snapping out of their hitting slump, also picked up a game. They blasted out 13 hits to swamp the hopeless Washington Senators, 8-1, with Tom Sturdivant pitching a strong four-hitter.

Andy Carey, Yankee third-baseman, became the fifth hitter in history to hit a home run into the distant left-field bleachers, 420 feet away. Only Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Joe DiMaggio and Gus Zernial had done it before.

Chuck Stobbs, one-time Yankee nemesis, failed to survive the third inning. The Senators' best pitcher a year ago, Stobbs is now 0-9 for the season and has lost 14 in a row in a slump extending back to last September.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers moved into a second-place tie, only two games off the lead, as both Cincinnati and Milwaukee Braves were beaten.

Roy Campanella, benched for the previous five games because of an 0-for-14 slump, batted in four runs with two homers to pace the Brooks to a 6-0 conquest of New York Giants.

New Record For Courtney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tom Courtney, 1956 Olympic champion, smashed the world 880-yard record Friday night in the Coliseum relays with a sensational time of 1.46.8.

Stealing the spotlight from the mile race won by Merv Lincoln of Australia in 4.01.0, Courtney broke the world mark of 1.47.5 set by Lon Spurrier in 1955.

Douglas House Wins High School Honors

Douglas House walked off with first place in the annual Mount Douglas High School inter-house track meet yesterday, more than doubling the point total of its nearest rival.

The Douglas team piled up 122½ points. Fraser House placed second with 60½ points, and Skeena House was third with 93 points.

Gerry Booth of Fraser House won the senior boys' aggregate championship, winning the 220 yards and the 440 yards, and finishing third in the mile. Carol Cambrey of Skeena House, who won four events out of five, took senior girls' honors.

In the junior aggregate competition, Sandra Worboys and Gordon Shrimpton, both of Douglas House, were the individual winners.

Mounties Lose Chance for Lead When Rainiers Win Second Game

Vancouver Mounties missed a chance to take the lead in the Pacific Coast Baseball League last night when they were edged out, 4-3, by Seattle Rainiers in the second game of a doubleheader at Seattle.

Mounties had moved within a game of the lead by winning the first game, 5-2, while Hollywood Stars were being beaten by Sacramento's last-place Solons.

Eddie Erautt pitched steady baseball in the first game as his teammates gave him an early lead. Catcher Charlie White made it six hits in six trips by getting three singles although none of them figured in the scoring.

Last night's score: Half Way House 9, Duncan 1.

Next game: Sunday, Half Way House at Duncan, 2.30. Gorge Hotel vs. Arrow Furniture, 6.45, Central Park.

Half Way House did an abrupt about-face at Central Park last night and behind the steady pitching of Dennis Beaulac and Stan Wargo, trounced Duncan Mayo Lumber, 9-1, to move within half a game of first place in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League.

Thursday night the Half Ways had blown up completely, committed nine errors, and dropped out of a first-place tie with Gorge Hotel as they were trounced, 12-6, by Arrow Furniture. But it was a much-improved team that took the field last night.

Beaulac gave up one run in the first inning, and with good support from his infield, blanked the Mayomen until the sixth, when he was relieved by Wargo, who went the rest of the way. The two righthanders were in command from the start and never gave up more than one hit in an inning.

Jacobson and Hodges Farmers' Picks Today

Farmer Construction, seeking its third straight victory in the Northwest International Semi-Pro Baseball League, will give city fans their first look at their brightest rookie prospect this afternoon at Royal Athletic Park.

RATED AS COMER

Harold "Jake" Jacobson, a 19-year-old righthander up from Victoria junior ranks, has been given the starting assignment for the first game of today's doubleheader against Vancouver Hardwood Roofers. Jacobson, who did see a little action with Farmers last year, is rated as the most improved player on the club, and has had a tryout offer from the professional Wenatchee Chiefs.

Southpaw Lowell Hodges will pitch the night game against the winless Roofers, who dropped their first two games to Burnaby Athletics and Young Liberals.

One probable starter for Hardwood is righthander Norm Allen, who pitched for the club last season when it was known as the White Spots.

Farmers go on their only road trip of the season Sunday, when they take on Bellingham in a doubleheader. Bill Garner and Bill Prior, who pitched Farmers to their first two victories last Monday, will pitch against the Bells.

Tuesday night Farmers return to Royal Athletic Park for a single game with Vancouver Young Liberals.

Game times today are 2.30 and 8 p.m.

Yanks Look Mortal as Worried Businessmen

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Once upon a time there was a team named the New York Yankees which won three American League pennants in a row and then finished second.

One month after that miserable "collapse" the stock market crashed and people started taking swan dives from open windows.

It is to be doubted, even now some 28 years later, that there was any connection whatsoever.

This brave stand is taken despite a current mood in judgment is just around the judgment is just arond the corner of 161st Street. At that site is located a once bright grassy plot surrounded by concrete known as The House That Ruth Built. And the gloom there today is thicker than Turkish coffee.

The Yankees are in third place.

Before you rush out to sell your stocks, or start practicing on a trampoline, let me advise you that in one man's opinion this is only a temporary situation and come October it will be more different than spats with sports shoes.

The difficulty seems to have to do with outside interests: namely the Chicago White Sox, testimonials, soft drinks, bowling alleys, the Detroit Tigers, television shows, magazine writing, the Cleveland Indians, Scotch and soda, motels, shoe stores, hamburger stands and night clubs.

On top of which, and because of which, the immortal Yankees are playing baseball like the rowdies of Larry MacPhail's late lamented flatbush A.C. bolstered by players obtained on waivers from the Milwaukee Braves of Jackie Robinson fame.

A few of the boys were whooping it up in the Malemute saloon, or some such joint, the other night, when out of the night (or early morning) strode trouble. They weren't doing anything more or less than other successful business men when somebody stepped out of line and "powie."

Hank Bauer, a gentleman known to his mates as "scrap iron," took the rap, one way or another. You more or less have to go along with him, however, that he didn't lower the boom. Hank just hasn't been hitting anybody lately.

You can be certain that Yogi Berra didn't connect.

"If I'd'a hit anybody," quoth Yogi, "I'd'a killed 'im."

So all of a sudden the fellows in the crisp, gray pin-stripes have feet of clay. And the rest of the league starts treating them as if they are ordinary mortals.

Meanwhile, this worry, compounded with the burden of outside business pressures, makes the Yankees co-conspirators. Infielders start playing like Babe Herman on a bad day. Outfielders make like Alphonse and Gaston—or Gorgeous George and Antonio Rocca. Suddenly they can't win for losing.

So they're in third place, and the local populace acts as if the Supreme Court was caught playing bingo in chambers.

But it would be nice if the fans (and sobbing Casey Stengel) remembered that they have won the pennant in seven of the last eight years; there are other ball players trying to feather their nest and other teams have a right to dream of sharing that world series loot.

I like the Yankees. But to the others I say: "Go, go, go!"

Jackson to Fight Patterson; Championship Bout in July

Champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson yesterday signed for a 15-round heavyweight title fight at New York's Polo Grounds sometime during the last week in July.

The bout is being promoted by Emil Lance, who is the first independent promoter to stage a heavyweight championship fight in more than 20 years. Jackson's signing was hailed as a victory for Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, who had vowed his fighter will never fight for the International Boxing Club.

Lippe Breidbart, manager of Jackson, finally agreed to terms yesterday. Jackson will get 20 per cent of all net receipts and Patterson will get 40 per cent. In addition, Jackson will receive $5,000, in advance, for training expenses.

Lence has guaranteed that radio and television rights will not be sold for less than $175,000. He expects that gate receipts will be somewhere between $500,000 and $600,000.

Stubborn Tail-Enders Give Yorkshire Draw

LONDON (AP) — Yorkshire forced the West Indies to a draw Friday with two wickets to go.

The county side has been beaten only five times by touring teams since the war. West Indies did it twice in 1950 and seemed all set to notch up the third victory Friday.

But fighting batting for two hours by J. V. Wilson and a good stand by W. Sutcliffe and D. E. Padgett kept Yorkshire's second inning alive until stumps were drawn. They finished 272 for eight, 159 behind the West Indies.

When Yorkshire went in to bat again Taylor was bowled at the start of the second over without a run being scored. His partner Close was bowled by Ramadhin for 22 and just after lunch the home side's chances looked black.

But Sutcliffe and Padgett stopped the West Indies advance until three-quarters of an hour before the end when Sutcliffe was bowled by Wesley Hall. The tail-end batsmen managed to keep going until time was up.

Results of Friday's cricket matches:

Hampshire 279 and 273 for 5 declared, Nottingham 285 for 8 declared. Match abandoned, rain.
Somerset 333 for 7 declared and 100, Warwickshire 204 and 232 for 4. Warwickshire won by six wickets.
Cambridge University 334 and 80 for 1, Lancashire 400. Match abandoned, rain.
Kent 392 for 8 declared and 134 for 5, Leicestershire 198. Match abandoned, rain.
Gloucestershire 307 and 223 for 5 declared, Worcestershire 313 for 9 declared and 218 for 5. Worcestershire won by five wickets.
West Indies 190 and 272 for 6 declared, Yorkshire 162 and 141 for 8. Draw.
Surrey 320 for 7 declared and 135 for 5 declared, Sussex 144 and 141 for 4. Draw.
Middlesex 135 and 247, Oxford University 344 and 55 for 6. Oxford University won by four wickets.

Mercy Shown in Gasoline Theft

Two youths, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing two gallons of gasoline, were given suspended sentences in city police court yesterday.

Darrel Pugh, 406 Sherk, and Harvey Chapman, 1739 Bay, were placed on probation for six months under $500 bonds by Magistrate Henry C. Hall, and ordered to report monthly to a probation officer.

They allegedly siphoned two gallons of gasoline from the car of Charles Coutts, 1748 Adanac.

In Colwood police court yesterday afternoon Andrew Guy Mulcahy, 228 Obed, was fined $35 and $5 costs, and had his driver's licence suspended for three months for careless driving.

Court was told that accused, driving 80 and 85 miles an hour on the highway, rammed into the rear of another car doing 50 in a 40-mile-an-hour zone. Damage totalled about $1,200, and Mulcahy was slightly hurt.

Thriving Sooke Area Marks Opening Of Large New Building Supply Firm

The opening of Sooke Building Supplies Ltd. in the busy Sooke district is another indication of the upswing of business activity in this sprawling area.

In recent years the population of Sooke has rapidly increased. New homes go deeper into the rugged, timbered area. Old party-line telephones are discarded and new private lines installed. The number of telephones has tripled in this area in the past year.

Sooke town grows in every direction. Recent developments have been the opening of a large, modern supermarket and a new Bank of Commerce, first bank to be permanently located in this island town. Copper mining operations keep a steady hum of helicopters over the [illegible]

The population is growing.

The Sooke area is expanding at a phenomenal rate. In order to serve the needs of these people locally, Smith Cedar Products Ltd., owned by Hershel A. Smith and Goodridge Sawmills Ltd., owned by William Grunow, have opened a large new outlet for their products.

The new supply centre is known as Sooke Building Supplies Ltd. It's located on busy Sooke Road, alongside Sooke Lockers, and will provide complete stocks of materials required in construction work, remodelling and repairs.

Search Goes On

Still No Sign Of Missing Island Family

Taking advantage yesterday of the week's first fine weather, planes and a helicopter fanned out in a detailed search around Washington's Stampede Pass for a Duncan family, missing in a plane in that area since Sunday.

Despite the all-out search, no sightings were reported from air or ground.

Bad weather and low clouds earlier in the week sharply curtailed aerial and ground units for Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Wall of Duncan and their seven-year-old son Glen.

The three in a Piper Tripacer vanished in the rugged Cascade Mountains on their return from a visit to Brewster, Wash.

CANYON SEARCH

Since Monday morning, what searching has been possible has concentrated in the Green Pass [illegible]

Clear skies sent a score or more Civil Air Patrol and private planes up for a detailed, contour search of the entire area north and south from Snoqualmie Pass. In addition, a U.S. Army helicopter from Fort Lewis was working directly from the emergency landing field at Lester.

Victoria Symphony Orchestra may present a concert on the steps of the legislative buildings some time this summer.

"If we're going to continue to be a civic organization and to expect help from other civic organizations, we've got to show we are a part of the community," said society president Jack Barraclough.

He pointed out that regular summer concerts at the Butchart Gardens have "gone over better year after year, and are perhaps the greatest cause" of increased membership in the society. It was disclosed that the total of 1,434 season ticket holders last season was an increase of 30 per cent from the previous year.

Garden Notes

Let's Not Be Defeatist

By M. V. CHESTNUT, FRHS

For my money, this is a defeatist attitude. Surely every proper gardener is an incurable optimist constantly making unorthodox sowings in the wild hope that this time, perhaps, they'll click. Many, many times I have seen abnormally late sowings or plantings produce handsome dividends.

The biggest payoff of the gamble though were the bulbs I harvested that fall—dozens and dozens of clean, plump bulbs of the most high-priced varieties.

These keep the soil from drying out while the seeds are germinating, but will have dried up and blown away by the time the seedlings emerge.

The Viewing World — By John Crosby

Dim Bulb Bites Back

It was sensational all right. And Mr. Cohen basking in headlines ever since has apparently enjoyed every minute of it. It was a spectacular exhibition of publicity for no reason, sensationalism for its own sake, exposure which exposes nothing. Even in Los Angeles Mickey Cohen is a dim bulb.

Cohen had a number of other nuggets of philosophy that were fairly interesting.

Campney Says:

'No Alternative'

Speaking in support of Frank Wilfert, Liberal candidate for Nanaimo riding, Mr. Campney urged election of an aggressive member, who would support progress such as has been given Canada by the Liberal government and not oppose everything as had Colin Cameron, the CCF member.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

The sands run out tonight for Caesar's Hour, a TV veteran, and the comic's second all-request show includes an Italian opera, a silent movie and a hilarious restaurant scene.

It's almost certain now that Caesar won't have a regular show next season. He'll make a movie, do the night clubs and perhaps guest on other TV shows. His show has had a weekly production budget of $115,000 and a cost per thousand viewing homes of $5.23 to the sponsor, almost four times that of competitor Lawrence Welk.

Channel 1 also has a special U.S. Navy film, "Secret Land," and channels 2 and 6 repeat "Mr. Broadway." Good movies are "The Lodger" and "Farmer's Daughter."

TV BITS: Keith McKenzie will head up a panel talk on the future of Victoria ... on channel 6 at 7:30 p.m. June 3. ... Channel 5 lists Five Star Comedy Party as starting today, but unofficial word is that it may not come until next week. ... NBC will cancel Jonathan Winters show soon, and has already replaced Xavier Cugat with Helen O'Connell as of next Wednesday. ... Mike Wallace has decided not to interview Tommy Manville after all. Substituting on June 2 will be ex-Communist Earl Browder. ... Joe DiMaggio will host a half hour sports anthology series next season.

Polly Bergen, hit of a recent Playhouse 90, has guest offers from Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan, Perry Como and Jackie Gleason. ... Ingrid Bergman is being asked to take on a series in which she would be a portrait painter. ... Trackdown, a Texas Rangers thing, is expected to replace West Point in the fall. ... Grey Ghosts, a Civil War thing, will be on CBS Sunday afternoons soon. ... ABC has set Sea Hunt, a frogman thing, for Wednesday nights. ... Proposed new shows: Flying Tigers, Stories of Doc Holliday (western), Cheers for Miss Amy (racing), It's Never Too Late (Jolie Wilson), Col. Flack (with Alan Mowbray and Frank Jenks as conmen).

LATE REPORT: NBC is finally shaking up its sad Tonight show. When Dave Garroway leaves Today June 21 for a two-month vacation, Jack Lescoulie will move over from Tonight and won't go back. Replacement is undecided.

Today's Best

R. J. PETKOVICH

Logger Drowns

ALERT BAY — Ronald Charles Berry, 23-year-old Vancouver logger, was drowned Sunday when the boat he was in flipped over and sank, it was reported yesterday.

A companion, Fred Aiker, was rescued. Berry's body has not been recovered.

Brother, Sister Meet

Footloose Family Members Reunited After 36 Years

Two members of a footloose family were reunited in Victoria Wednesday, after 36 years, when Joe Nokinski of Vancouver called at 81 Logan.

Joe not only met his sister Anne, he also met her husband, Alfred Holmes, and daughters Pam, 9, and Vicki, 13. And they, in turn, met Mrs. Nokinski.

Brother and sister parted company in 1921 when Joe left the family home in Regina, Sask., with two other brothers to go to St. Paul, Minn. His brothers returned home after two years but he stayed in the U.S. until 1933 when he returned to Canada.

He ended up last year as a cook with the Northern Construction Company in B.C.

In the meantime, Mrs. Holmes had married and moved away from Regina. She lost her husband after 22 years and moved to Calgary, where she met Mr. Holmes. They were married five years ago and came to Victoria late last year.

Mr. Nokinski found his sister's address from another sister, Nellie, in Calgary, and the reunion was arranged.

Four years ago Mrs. Holmes was reunited with another sister, Helen, after a separation of 26 years.

Shortly after Mrs. Holmes married her first husband, Helen left home to keep house for a married brother. She married a bachelor neighbor and didn't return home.

Four years ago Nellie's son went to the Regina Exhibition to care for some racehorses owned by a friend. He met another lad there and in casual conversation they found out they were cousins.

From the accidental meeting, Helen was reunited with both Nellie and Anne.

Mrs. Holmes' search for her widely-scattered family hasn't ended. Still missing are brothers Alec and Stanley, who went to St. Paul with Joe. She lost track of them after they returned to Canada.

Salvation Army

Shield Drive $21,000 Short

More than $21,000 must be donated to the Red Shield campaign before the end of May if the Salvation Army is to meet its objective of $38,000 in Victoria.

One of the many services carried out by the Army from year to year across Canada is its work in police courts, prisons and mental homes.

COURT VISITS

Last year in Victoria, the Army's police court officer made 270 visits to the court and 60 to the Colquitz Mental Home.

Some 164 interviews were held with people up in court and nine persons were given over to the Army's care by the magistrate.

Of the persons released by the court, prisons and mental home, some 75 were given free beds and received 159 free meals from the Army.

The Army also assists by giving clothing to those who need it.

The same police court officers spent 327 hours in the court and mental home last year and made 156 phone calls for prisoners.

The services provided by the court officers are only one phase of the work done by the Salvation Army as routine every year.

Canvassers for the Red Shield campaign are still needed for residential areas and any one wishing to volunteer should call the office at 3-3341. Donations should be sent to the Red Shield at 757 Pandora.

PTA Rally To Focus On Family

Representatives from Victoria PTA groups and the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council will be among 100 delegates at the Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation convention at UBC May 26 to June 1.

The opening address will be given on Tuesday night by Mrs. J. D. Taylor, federation president, who will speak on "The Thirtieth Year."

Education Minister Leslie Peterson will be chairman at a special session Thursday night.

Warden Hugh Christie of Oakalla prison will be the principal speaker and will carry out the convention theme of "The Canadian Family," with a talk on "The Family Reflects Today's Community."

New officers will be installed on the last day of the annual meeting, May 31.

'Servants' Granted More Pay

Another 600 professional federal civil servants have won salary increases ranging between 4½ and 12 per cent, the Civil Service Commission announced this week.

Some 25 dieticians, statisticians, social workers and medical social workers in Victoria will receive the boost, varying from $240 to more than $1,000 annually, G. K. Sammon, national president of the DVA Employees' Association, said.

Nearly 7,000 professional civil servants now have received pay increases, effective May 1, with more than 6,300 included in the first list announced last week.

Mr. Sammon said he is expecting a pay boost for the remaining 135,000 civil servants in other classes just before or after the forthcoming election.

"I will be very disappointed if the other 135,000 don't get at least a 10 per cent increase," he said.

B.C. Centennial

Vans to Display Historic Relics

To promote British Columbia centennial celebrations next year two tractor-trailer vans containing historic relics of B.C.'s growth will tour the province.

The large vans will go on tour from mid-April until the end of [illegible] every community.

"We will try to take as representative a collection as possible from the many treasures in the provincial archives," said Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, who is supervising the selection.

One van will tour Vancouver Island, the lower mainland, Kootenays and Okanagan while the other covers the northern area through Kamloops, Dawson Creek and Fort St. John.

Local centennial committees will handle the exhibitions in each centre visited in co-operation with local schools.

Stopping in more than 300 centres the vans will put on display paintings, photographs, original manuscripts and maps. Color films on B.C. will also be shown at each stop.

Turbines By 1961 TCA Aim

Trans-Canada Air Lines plan to be the first international airline to have a completely turbine-powered fleet by 1961, Ross Smyth, TCA public relations official, said yesterday.

Plans call for standardization on three types of aircraft, the Vickers Viscount and Vanguard prop-jets, and the long-range Douglas DC-8 pure jet.

The Viscount, the first prop-jet airliner to go into scheduled service, was introduced to North American routes by TCA early in 1955.

Expected date of delivery of the huge DC-8 is sometime in 1960. It will be used primarily on inter-continental and non-stop trans-continental service, having a capacity of 160 passengers.

A cruising speed of 550 miles and hour will cut the Vancouver to Toronto flight to four hours, 10 minutes, he said.

For intermediate and heavy density routes TCA plans to use the prop-jet Vanguard in 1961. This big brother to the Viscount cruises at 420 miles an hour and carries 120 passengers.

Mr. Smyth said that 273,000 passengers used TCA services at Victoria in 1956, a 66 per cent increase in five years.

Four Districts May Celebrate

Tentative plans for joint centennial celebrations next year in the Langford, Colwood, Metchosin and Happy Valley districts were formed Wednesday night by the executive of the Colwood and district centennial committee.

The plans will be submitted to a general meeting of the committee June 19 for approval before being sent to the B.C. Centennial Committee for final approval.

Executive suggested that the Metchosin Farmers' Institute Fair be given 30 of the 40 cents per capita grant from the whole area. Possibly a parade and queen contest might be arranged.

Executive also recommended that district school teachers be asked to arrange an historical pageant and that part of the government grant be set aside for an entry in the 1958 Queen's Birthday parade in Victoria.

WELL ISOLATED

Norfolk Island, 920 miles from Sydney, Australia, was discovered by Captain Cook in 1774.

Hard-To-Place Workers Being Found More Jobs

An encouraging increase in the number of job placements of the physically handicapped, ex-penitentiary inmates and older-age workers, is reported by the Unemployment Insurance Commission, Pacific region.

Total number placed during April was 231, an increase of approximately 40 per cent over the previous month's total, and about 63 per cent over January's total.

A commission official said that handicapped workers, if [illegible] job, are equally as reliable as physically fit workers.

Regular visits to B.C. Penitentiary and Oakalla prison farms are maintained by experienced placement officers to interview and counsel inmates due for release on employment prospects.

BIRTLE, Man. (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Friday night the Manitoba farmer has never had it so good.

Despite what critics of the government say, "the fact is that practically every farm product — except wheat — has been finding a ready market here in Canada and at prices that are higher than could be obtained on any outside market," the justice minister said.

Oil Shares Favored At New York

NEW YORK (UP)—Oil shares, spurred by glowing predictions made recently on the future of the industry, advanced to more than 3 points to feature a higher, more [illegible] market Friday.

Getty Oil set a new high at 36¼, up 3¼. Advances of 2 or more appeared in Amerada, Monterey, Skelly and Tidewater. Gulf, Atlantic Refining, Mission Corp., and Richfield rose more than a point each.

Automobile issues firmed on a rise in production. Steels held steady to firm on a rise in production.

A decline in Grumman Aircraft reflected a decline in earnings. Several others of the aircraft group eased.

T-M Pipeline Dips

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed in an irregularly mixed tone Friday with industrial price movements ranging to more than a point.

Among the steels, Algoma at 143 and Atlas at 26¼ each eased ½ while Steel of Canada slipped ⅝ to 69¼. Howard Smith was high in papers, firming a point at 36 and Consolidated Paper added ½ at 35 while Great Lakes dropped an equal fraction to 46. Inter-Provincial Pipe Lines was up ¼ at 61½ while Trans-Mountain lost 6 points at 126½.

Canada Steamships was active among carriers and added 4 points at 44 while in the miscellaneous issues Industrial Acceptance firmed a point at 29¾ and CIL was ahead an equal amount at 20. Foundation marked the only movement in constructions, dropping ⅝ to 23⅝.

Mines and oils were mixed. Continental added 65 cents at 3.20 while Faraday was up 15 cents at 3.15 and Calgary-Edmonton added 2 points at 32⅞. On the downside, Cassiar fell 40 cents to 7.00, United Oils lost 30 cents at 3.70 and Camp Chib at 9.90 and Cabanga at 3.10 each fell 10 cents. Home Oil A at 21 was down ¼ and Home B eased ⅜ at 20¼.

Uraniums Decline

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market, led by a late rally in western oils, Friday posted a slight advance in heavier trading.

Utilities led industrials but the rest of the section's groups showed little edge in either ups or downs.

Uraniums took a downward dip, led by one-point declines by Algom and Consolidated Denison. Senior base metals were fractionally lower but Sherritt managed a 30-cent gain to $6.40.

Home Oil B lost 1½ points at 19½ among senior western oils but major fractional gains by Calgary and Edmonton and Pacific Pete offset the loss. Triad was up 15 cents to $7.60 but United Oils lost 20 cents.

Pacific Holds Firm

VANCOUVER — Except for strength in selected issues, the tendency was lower on the Vancouver stock exchange.

Strong features were Pacific Petroleum at $28¼; B.C. Power at $51¾ and among mines Trojan Consolidated at 28 cents.

Charter Oil was lower at 3.60 while United Oils after rising to 4.05 closed at 3.80.

Bralorne was slightly stronger at 4.40.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Grain prices showed considerable weakness today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Rye and flax recorded new seasonal lows.

Factors behind the drops were declines on United States markets and lack of aggressive commercial demand and of overseas business in Canadian grains.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were unchanged, except for the durums which dropped one-eighth cent.

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures fell sharply to new seasonal lows for the second successive day.

Wheat dropped more than two cents but showed slight recovery tendencies in late trade. Rye also dropped more than two cents.

Government sale of an additional 700,000 bushels of wheat to exporters and clearing weather over the grain belt caused selling in all pits. However, corn and oats resisted the general liquidation movement.

Wage Threat Hovers

Forest Shares Stronger

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Promise of further reductions in shipping freight rates as a result of the reopening of the Suez Canal restored some investor interest in the shares of B.C. lumber firms yesterday.

MacMillan and Bloedel "B" rose $1 to $33, giving the stock a gain of nearly $4 within the past two weeks. Buyers also appeared for Crown Zellerbach Canada Ltd. and B.C. Forest Products.

The drop in rates so far has been small, but shipping men expect substantial reductions as traffic on the world's shipping lanes return to normal.

Further outlook for the B.C. lumber firms however is clouded by the wage negotiations with the International Woodworkers of America Union, now before a conciliation board.

NEW PEAK FOR DOLLAR

The Canadian dollar advanced to a new 24 years' peak yesterday when it traded yesterday at a premium of 4 27/32 cents over the United States dollar.

It is now within 25/32 of its November, 1933, peak.

The demand for the Canadian dollar is created largely by the continued inflow of U.S. capital into Canadian ventures. While this capital is mainly flowing into new Canadian issues, there has been in recent days heavy U.S. buying in existing Canadian oil and pipeline stocks through normal stock exchange trading.

CHANGES SOUGHT

Changes in the by-laws of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to expedite handling of emergency matters, and the creation of the office of a second vice-president are being considered by the directors.

At yesterday's meeting of the board President Austin Curtis suggested an executive committee should be added to the chamber's groups. This would have powers to make decisions when there was no time to call a full meeting of the directors.

He suggested it should have the same personnel as the Ways and Means Committee which at present handled staff and financial matters [illegible].

The need for a second vice-president was stressed by Vice-President Hugh Stephen. He said executives of the chamber were being asked to tackle more jobs than they could handle, and that a second vice-president to acts as a projects chairman for the five groups was required.

Steps are being taken to place amendments to the by-laws before the members of the chamber at the forthcoming annual meeting.

Clearings at the Victoria [illegible] for the week ending May 23 were $9,421,335, slightly below the $9,425,049 of the corresponding week of 1956, and also below the average weekly total for 1957.

Wenner-Gren Changes Plan

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wenner-Gren (B.C.) Development Ltd., Swedish firm conducting a $5,000,000 survey of natural resources in the Rocky Mountain Trench, has set up a planning board to co-ordinate survey activity and to place the development on a "completely planned basis."

Bernard Gore, the company's managing director heads the five-man board.

"We feel we can save several months this way instead of conducting completely independent surveys," he said.

Other board members are Ralph Chantrill of British Thomson-Houston; F. A. Davis of Alweg Ltd., in charge of the monorail survey; Lawrence Sillar of Wenner-Gren, the project's supervising engineer; and Hans Lundberg of Lundberg Explorations Ltd., in charge of the mineral survey.

A sixth member is to be appointed from the American forest survey firm of Merritt, Chapman and Scott.

Board members plan an airborne inspection tour of the survey project this weekend. On the outcome of the survey will depend whether Wenner-Gren undertakes a development project estimated to cost up to $1,000,000,000.

Mr. Gore expects the overall survey report will be ready next March.

Gilt-Edgeds Fall

LONDON (Reuters) — Dominion and colonial issues were lower following the depressing influence of a gilt-edged market.

Japanese bonds were dull in a quiet foreign market. Small losses again predominated in the industrials. Steel and engineering shares were easier and electrical equipments dull.

Hudson's Bay moved against the general trend on a renewed demand. Oils were erratic but Canadian Eagle was prominent. Dollar stocks were irregular with Canadian issues in selective demand.

South African gold shares were fairly well maintained in quiet conditions.

Calgary Cattle

CALGARY (CP)—Trading was active under good demand on the livestock market Thursday. On offer were 850 cattle and 25 calves with a fair truck run developing. A good percentage of offerings were good to choice butcher steers and heifers, the balance mostly cows.

Offering of

NEW CAPITAL STOCK

Shareholders of record May 17, 1957, have received rights to purchase additional shares on the basis of one new share at $30.00 per share for each five shares held. Rights expire August 9, 1957.

We offer our facilities to investors who wish to

- subscribe for additional shares
- buy shares or rights on the market
- sell all or part of their rights

We suggest that Canadian shareholders exercise their rights and subscribe for the additional shares to which they are entitled.

Investors who are not now shareholders of the Bank of Montreal—the first bank ever established in Canada—now have an excellent opportunity to purchase rights on the market and subscribe for shares.

Yachting Season Opens With 130-Boat Sailpast

Yachts spread over four miles will sail past Commodore Dave Lewis off the entrance to Genoa Bay at 4 p.m. today for the opening of the Capital City Yacht Club 1957 season.

Making a rendezvous in Satellite Channel at 3:30 p.m., "which will give us four miles of boats," Mr. Lewis said yesterday.

Most of the boats will be in "full dress." Several will be from Maple Bay, Nanaimo, Anacortes and Royal Victoria Yacht Clubs, he said.

The ceremony is expected to end at 6 p.m., and dinner will be served at Genoa Bay Lodge at 7.

Dancing for members from 9 p.m. to midnight will be highlighted by the 10 p.m. appearance of the Polish White Eagle Association. The dancers will be picked up at Cowichan Bay by boat, taken to the lodge and later returned to Cowichan Bay.
